

ATLANTA ASSOCIATION OF INTERPRETERS & TRANSLATORS

The Atlanta Association of Interpreters & Translators, AAIT, is a non-profit organization and the Georgia chapter of the American Translators Association, ATA. AAIT serves as the link to Atlanta's international community and the world.

AAIT Mission:

- To promote the professions of Translation and Interpretation, and to support their competency, skills, proficiency and expertise.
- To facilitate and procure continuing education and skills building programs to interpreters and translators in Georgia.
- To provide language resources to individuals, businesses, organizations, and government agencies in the local and international community.

AAIT Members:

Our members have a high level of education, excellent literary and verbal skills and fluency in source and target languages. They also have a deep understanding of foreign cultural customs, business practices and etiquette.

Our interpreters and translators are qualified professionals accredited by various organizations and schools including:
